

GUIDELINES FOR SUBMITTING MANUSCRIPTS

Presentation

The Boletín Mexicano de Derecho Comparado was created in 1948, under the heading Boletín del Instituto de Derecho Comparado, as the periodical review of that Institute. By agreement of the University Council of December 15, 1967, the Instituto de Derecho Comparado changed its name into Instituto de Investigaciones Jurídicas; as a consequence of this, the name of the Boletín was adjusted to have its current one. Since its creation, the Boletín has been published without interruptions every four months.

The Boletín looks for the active participation of national and foreign jurists from an multi-institutional and international perspective, to collaborate in the editorial tasks as reviewers and also with their own papers and articles to be published. Its purpose is evident with the fact that jurists from very diverse institutions and nationalities form part of both the Editorial Board and the Editorial Committee of the Boletín.

It is worth mentioning that the Boletín Mexicano de Derecho Comparado is determined to maintain the quality of the materials published, just as it has been the case since its creation. To do so, every work is subjected to two evaluations double blind, conducted by ample list of referees.

In addition, it is important to emphasize that the Boletín Mexicano de Derecho Comparado is registered within the following national and international index: Bibliography of Asian Studies (Online Edition); CSA Political Science & Government (Cambridge Scientific Abstracts); Index to Foreign Legal Periodicals; Periodicals Index Online; Russian Academy of Sciences Bibliographies; Human Rights Internet Reporter; Marine Affairs Bibliography; Latindex; Sistema Regional de Información en Línea para Revistas Científicas de América Latina, el Caribe, España y Portugal; Scielo: Scientific Electronic Library Online y el Índice de Revistas Mexicanas de Investigación Científica y Tecnológica (Conacyt).

Finally, we have to point out that the Boletín has four sections: Articles, Legislative Studies, Bibliography and Information. Through the works published in these sections, this journal seeks: to divulge legal research which is focused primarily to find solutions to Mexico's problems; to produce scientific information concerning the different areas of the law; to give support to teaching and research done at the UNAM, and at other Mexican and foreign institutions.

Guidelines editorial

1. Only original and unpublished contributions will be accepted. The Review's official language is Spanish. Contributions written in French, English, Italian or Portuguese will be published in those languages. Articles that have been published in the aforesaid languages or other will be considered only if it is the first time that they are translated to Spanish.

2. All contributions must meet the following requirements when sent: printed with a laser printer, 1.5 line spacing and using font Arial 12. A diskette or an e-mail file must also be sent along with the article in MS Word DOS 5.0 or Word for Windows 6 or 7.

3. The maximum length of each contribution is: from twenty five to thirty pages in the case of articles; for legislative studies, the extension will be from ten to fifteen pages; and five pages in the case of bibliography reviews.

4. Each contribution must have an abstract in English and Spanish of no more than 200 words each one. Also, you have to include five key words, both in English and Spanish.

5. The following format is suggested for citation:

For greater information you could consult the publishing criteria of the Instituto de Investigaciones Jurídicas, UNAM, available online at: <http://www.juridicas.unam.mx/publica/critedit/critedit.pdf>.

6. Along with all contributions a separate sheet with the following information should be included: author's name and address; current work place; position; telephone; fax; and e-mail address, so that we can keep contact with the authors.

7. All material that meets the Publishing Criteria of the Instituto de Investigaciones Jurídicas will be sent for a double-blind review process. The opinions will base properly if the article is susceptible to be publicized, with or without corrections, or, if it is rejected. In case that exist change suggestions, the author will have two weeks to make them.

Once a work is accepted, the authors will have to transfer the copyright to the Instituto de Investigaciones Jurídicas.

The Institute will send two issues to each author.
